PROJECTS

YoutubeLinks

I achieved 8th place in the "100 Commits" competition organized by DevMentors. Over 100 days, I developed the "YoutubeLinks" application, which allows users to create playlists from YouTube links and download those playlists as MP3 and MP4 files. I used my favourite tech stack to create this project - C#, .NET, Minimal API, Blazor WebAssembly, MudBlazor, Entity Framework Core and Vertical Slices Architecture.

FreakFightsFan

The FreakFightsFan application contains information and statistics about federations, events, fights and fighters of freak fight federations. I created this application because I am a fan of freak fights and I wanted to practice building Full Stack applications with .NET technology. I used my favourite tech stack to create this project - C#, .NET, Minimal API, Blazor WebAssembly, MudBlazor, Entity Framework Core and Vertical Slices Architecture.
